Someone once said that everyone has a story, but what makes us different is how we choose to tell it. Well, if that's what it takes to set ourselves apart from others then Warren stood alone this year because oh what a story we told.

As I waited for the bell to ring December 20, signaling the end of first semester, but even better, the beginning of Christmas break, I began thinking of all that had happened over the past 18 weeks; not even a chapter in life's story in all reality, but so very long in the life of a teeanger. And so, this was how our story went.

August 16 and school started. Students returned to meet new classmates, make new friends, and perhaps find new boyfriends or girlfriends. Freshmen got lost while upper-classmen got used to a building under construction. Teachers waited, anxious to share new material, open new doors for us, and give legs to the dreams we were building.

Friday, September 6 Warren vs. Ben Davis, only one of the biggest games of the year. The crowd was filled with screaming fans ready to celebrate a win. When junior Caleb Ramirez kicked the winning field goal, ending the game 14-17, thirteen years of loss was over.

Friday, September 20, seven tornadoes ripped apart the Eastside but not our spirits. In all, 73 homes were destroyed but no one seriously injured. Homecoming was postponed and students rallied to raise funds for the victims.

Someone once said that you should give as you would receive, cheerfully, quickly, and without hesitation. Looking back I can't believe how much of Warren's story was about giving.

We raised money for tornado victims, bought food for the hungry, threw a Christmas party for needy children, adopted an inner-city elementary school, and donated hundreds of more dollars and thousands of hours to numerous other causes. Funny how many adults and outsiders think of us teens as caring about nothing but ourselves, clearly they havn't spent much time inside this small town.

As the semester came to an end I realized what a wonderful adventure it had been so far, but then again, that's what life is supposed to be. Our story was filled with page after page of amazing tales, and who knows what was in store for next semester, I guess this story will just have to be continued.

Your Day

This is the story of your life. Well, maybe only four years, but what years they are. These were the times that would shape the person you are to become. Now let's take a look back, remember the construction mess when school started? What a pain. However, we looked past it and threw ourselves into the new year with enthusiasm. Our sports teams dominated, the band fought its way to the top, choirs practiced, actors rehearsed, and tornadoes touched down. And there were so many memories to be made when 2:55 rolled around. Remember the "Rockin' Roll Christmas Countdown Show," what you and your friends did over spring break, your first or last prom? Whatever lingers in your mind, we hope it makes you smile. We may have been different people, but we all walked the same halls and we all wrote a story.

Victory is ours

Warriors end 13 game losing streak

Fueled by 12 years of anger, the Warrior varsity football team finally reigned victorious over the Ben Davis Giants with a 17-14 win.

However, the evening started with anxiety levels high. Not only did the players enter the game with bad history riding on their shoulders, they did so in front of greater America, as the Warriors and the Giants were the ESPN high school game of the week.

With ESPN visiting for the game, the Warriors knew they would have to put any fear aside, get pumped up, and be ready to play to win. Once the game started, it was clear the Warriors were ready to play football.

"I really didn't have any fears. I felt it was going to be a great opportunity to see where we were as a team, win or lose," said Coach Wright. Keeping a good attitude and working together, the boys pulled through and made new history for Warren Central.

"I can't identify one essential player," said Coach Wright "but a team is only as good as their seniors and they are doing a very good job!"

CalebRamirez-" I never imagined it would all come down to a kick. I just tried to act like it was just a practice kick."

Kyle Wimberly- " I think our defense and our crowd deserve more recognition for what they do for us as a team."

Coach Wright- "Pulling through adversity and playing well are some major strengths of this team."

Story from the field...

1st Quarter

"The timeout made me more nervous, but I just tried to think about something else," said Ramirez.

2nd Quarter

- Fullback Mark Bonds fumbled on the second play from scrimmage.
- At the end of the quarter, the score was 0-0.

3rd Quarter

- Dub C opened the scoring midway through when quarterback Desmond Tardy made an 83-yard drive with a 5- yard option around the left end.
- Jon Polston struck receiver Bo Thompson, both of Ben Davis, for a 22-yard touchdown pass to tie the game at 7-7.

4th Quarter

- This quarter was identical to the first with both defenses playing to dominate.
- The score was still 7-7 going into the final quarter.

"Caleb Ramirez set off an eruption of emotion on the Far Eastside."

4th Quarter

- Warriors advance 14-7 with a 21-yard touchdown run by Mark Bonds.
- Polston, of the Giants, prowled in for a 2-yard touchdown run to tie the score at 14-14.
- Safety Kyle Wimberly tipped a pass thrown down the middle. It was a bad call given from the Giants which enabled the Warriors to make an interception.
- In the final 30 seconds, Jenkins Reese intercepted a pass deep in Warriors territory.

"That was a terrible call on my part, we should have run the ball; the call was my fault."
- Giants headcoach.

Overtime

- Ben Davis intercepts and is in position to strike.
- With Polston pressured while rolling right, Wimberly and receiver Brian Faires tipped the ball that Reese intercepted to win the game 17- 14.
- After the kick went through, 3,500 fans teammates and fans surged the field to celebrate one of the biggest wins for Warren Central.

Homecoming week tests Spirit and resolve of students and staff

Monday, September 16, 2002, the Warriors began a week of homecoming activities amid foul weather that would become worse.

Monday night kicked off the activities with the battle for the best decorated pillar. Numerous students stayed after school in hopes of bringing home the win for their class, but despite all the hard work from the freshmen, sophomores, and juniors, the class of 2003 was victorious!

Many talented Star Search contestants showed off their skills on Wednesday night at the PAC. Richelle Steiner, Sarah Winn, Adam Miller, and Stifle The Urge were the winners for the night.

Hard rainfall caused the bonfire on Thursday night to be cancelled, but Mr. Carter and Ms. Shetter still had their chance to peck a pest the next day during morning announcements.

By the time Friday came, students and faculty alike were excited for the big game and another win for Warren. However, the weather took a turn for the worse, and the East side was hit by several strong tornadoes. Because of the damage around the city, the game against Terre Haute South was postponed until Saturday.

The next day, under a bright blue sky, the Warriors showed the Braves what Dub-C domination meant with a score of 63 to 0.

Saturday night the dance was held and Devron Rogers and Amanda Moloy were crowned King and Queen, and Dale Sharp was named Mr. Football. Over 700 students crowded into the commons to dance the night away and celebrate our Victory under Construction.

Junior Jeff Willour plays his guitar with the band Stifle the Urge. Other band members included Tim Hasler, Jake Harvey, and Caleb Ramirez. The band played "Girl All the Bad Guys Want," by Bowling for Soup.

Mark Bonds swerves through the Brave's defense as he rushes down the field, hoping to make another touchdown. Unfortunately, Bonds did not make a score in this play, but he helped tremendously throughout the game.

During the third quarter, junior Kyle Wimberly intercepts the ball from the Braves. The interception helped the Warriors to another touchdown, taking the score to 41-0. The final score of the 5th stop on the road to victory was 63-7.

"I'm really proud of the guys; they were the play-makers I knew they could be," said Coach Burton after the game.

IF YOU HAVE ONE WISH, MAKE IT...

BIG

In early November the WCHS drama department performed the hit musical BIG, the story of a young boy, Josh Baskin, who dreams of being a big boy. Josh was played by Freshman Zach Saloh. "I didn't think I'd get the part at all, but I was excited and ready to accept the challenge, " said Saloh.

Style, in the eyes of others, can be influenced by the identity of characters. Today, most of our styles are shaped because a certain fad identifies us with different things. Some of us support school events, certain bands, T.V. stars, etc. and we wear the same hair and clothing style. A majority of people wear a certain attire to identify the clique they belong to, while others just try to be themselves.

The Weekend Story

It's Friday afternoon at 2:50 . . . we spring out of our desks, run to the bus or our cars, and head home to start what we've waited for all week . . .

the weekend.

The weekend was a time for students to break free from the daily grind and do what we did best...

have fun.

It was a time for us to be with our friends, our boy or girlfriends, our families; it was a time to express ourselves.

It was a time for us to be who we actually were, not what the teachers wanted us to be or the other kids wanted us to be, and find out what's our story.

THE BUILDING BLOCKS for your . . .

JOB SEARCH

1. So many choices . . .

Luca Pizza pays $8 an hour. Express only pays $6.50. You know you'd love working at Express, but you need to save money for college too. What do you do? You have to decide if the cut in pay is worth it. Take your time deciding, and be sure to weigh all the options, like hours and raises.

2. Filling out the application

Honesty really is the best policy when it comes to job applications. "If you say you have worked at McDonalds, but they've never heard of you; you just lost the job no matter what," says AMC General Manager Damita Jones. Even if you think adding something extra will help you get the job, don't put it unless it's true!

3. The Interview

Let's say you're the big boss and a possible employee walks into your office wearing flip-flops, baggy jeans, and an old t-shirt. What would your first reaction be? You would send them straight out of the office, right? The way you look when you go to an interview can always help determine whether or not they are going to hire you. Dress nicely and always remember to be polite.

4. I've got the job, now what?

"If you do what you're told and do it right then you'll do fine at any job. Also, don't worry about what the other employees are doing; gossip is not appreciated," explains Steak 'n' Shake General Manager, Charles Goiden. That makes having a job sound easy, right? Just do your job,work hard,and have fun.
Good Luck!

Whether they wanted a "brand new" used car , some extra spending money for that new Abercrombie t-shirt, or all the money for college they've dreamed of, many students sought the title of the "working teenager".

This was not as easy as it sounds. There were many hinderences that students found stopping them from finding that perfect job.

"I work for my mom at a company named AMag. I get payed well and it was easier than dealing with finding another employer," said Junior Rachel Gilliam.

Other students who decided to take the responsibility of finding their job found out it really wasn't that hard." I didn't have a hard time findng a job. I got hired at the first place I applied," said Senior Erin Shaw.

Once the students got their "perfect job" some realized it really wasn't that great. " I really didn't apply to that many places, and now I regret it," said Sophomore Kenny Verrill.

Whether they loved their job, hated their job, or didn't even have one, most Warriors agreed there's nothing like a little cash in their pocket!

(clockwise from top) Smiling widely, junior Stephanie Bresnahan makes sure everything is okay at her table. Bresnahan, as well as many other Warriors, worked at Steak- n- Shake on Franklin Road. Besides being a local hang-out, this was also one of the few places where students could be waiters or waitresses.

Sorting through some clothes at Old Navy, Jeremy Ames enjoys his day at work. Due to his activities with band, Ames had litle time to work but he found the flexible hours at Old Navy a bonus.

Junior Stephanie Butcher answers the phone at AMC Eastgate. This was just one of the many jobs that employees of AMC were able to do. Other duties included: popping popcorn, cleaning theatres, as well as selling concessions.

CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU

Over 200 students, families, and faculty members crowded into the PAC on Saturday, March 22, to watch the premiere of "Can't Take It With You".

The play was performed on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday and sold around 500 tickets, earning almost $1000.

"Can't Take It With You," is a play about a strange family with strange habits. "I had a really fun time practicing and performing this play; it kind of resembled my family," joked senior J Hagley.

The crew did a great job of turning the stage into a wonderful setting and the excellent performers set the tone of the play.

"We decided to do this particular play because it had a simple set, large cast, and some real potential to be funny," said director Mr. Colby. "It turned out just the way I wanted, if not better."

(Right) Junior Jonah Winston, in the role of Boris Kolenkhov, discusses the ups and downs of German politics with Martin Vanderhof, played by Senior J Hagley. The two had very different opinions on the topic.

(Far Right) Alice, played by Sophomore Kristen English, excitedly tells her family all about her new boyfriend. Alice's boyfriend impressed the family very much.

Members of the cast dish out some of their most embarrassing moments

"My character Rheba was supposed to be swatting flies out of the kitchen while walking to answer the door. While I was swatting, my hat fell off but I kept swatting and I hit myself in the eye with the rag as I turned to put my hat back on! Then I tripped up the stairs! Thank goodness it was only dress rehearsal!"- Brittney Russell, 12

" I was doing a scene with Kristen English in which I was supposed to open a bottle of sparkling cider. I went to pop the cork and I had a hard time getting it off. What I didn't expect was for the cork to shoot off into the audience and the cider to explode all over my hair. Kristen and I , as well as the audience, thought that the entire situation was hilarious."-Brian Coleman, 11

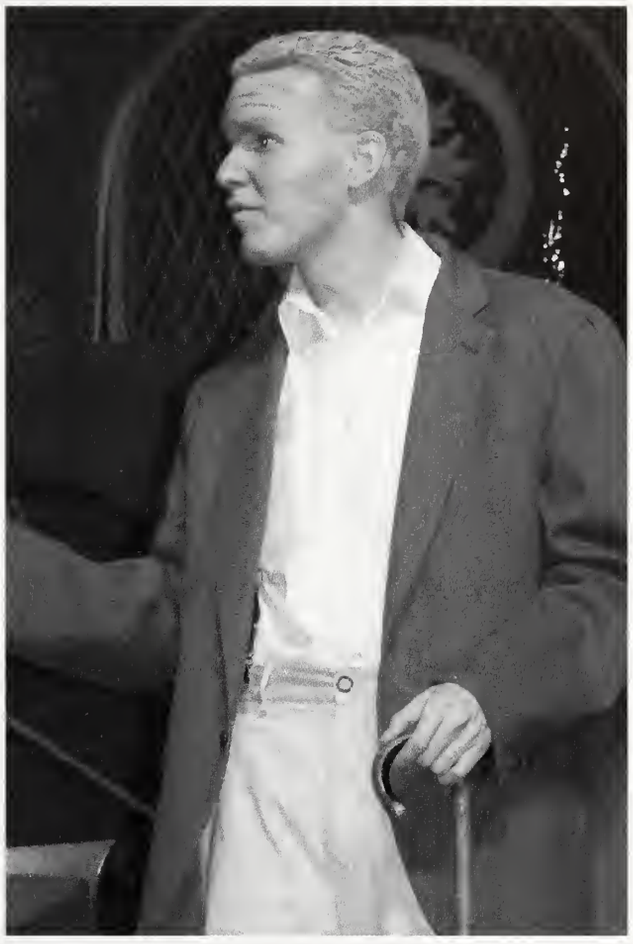
Realizing how late it is, Tony Kirby contemplates whether or not he should leave his new girlfriend, Alice. Kirby was played by Junior Brian Coleman and Alice was played by Sophomore Kristen English.

(Left)"God is the state, and the state is God," states Noah Winston, who starred as Paul Sycamore. This statement was one of the many inspirational quotes throughout the performance.

(Bottom) Grandpa Martin Vanderhov gives his younger family members some "old age wisdom". Vanderhov was played by Senior J Hagley.



Freshman Zach Saloh, who played the role of shop owner Mr. Depinna, explains to Paul that "a balloon needs time to grow." Paul, played by Noah Winston, often helped Mr. Depinna with tasks around the shop and wanted things done as soon as possible.

Sunny Days are here again

As I sit in my car on the way home from my trip I think of all the fun that I had swimming, boating, tanning, shopping, and relaxing in the beautiful weather. While I was there I had no drama from my friends about their significant others or from my teachers because I had forgotten my homework again. Even my parents couldn't yell at me for not cleaning my room. It was just me, the water, and the sun thinking of what to do next, and knowing we could choose whatever we wanted. I had been free . . . at least for the week.

With everyone dressed in their finest formal wear, students were ready for a night of unforgettable memories. Seniors and Juniors danced the night away to Kelly Clarkson's A Moment Like This. The Prom was held at the Indiana Roof Ballroom on the night of Saturday, April 26, 2003. The chosen prom colors were midnight blue and silver. Dinner was served between 6:30 and 8:00. The Prom came to a close at 11:30, but the fun did not stop there. The excitement carried into Sunday for many students with the annual trip to King's Island.

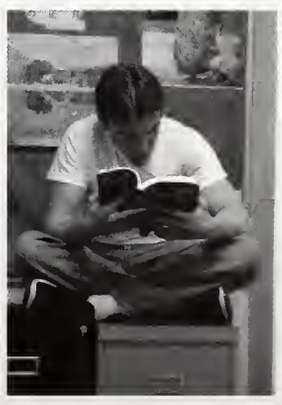
Your smarts

Going through the years, you feel like each oneis as hard as it gets, only to later find out how incorrect you are. In the early years, like elementary and middle schools, high school seems like a dream place. However, once in high school, there are further educations, discoveries, and tough years to go through. For the most part, academics run your high school career. True, teens live for their lives outside of school, but as much as we don't want to admit it, without academics, there would be no school. There would be no more classes, no more lessons, and worst of all, no more boundaries for our minds to overcome. So, from the foreign language to the english classes, from the math and science to the geography and history classes, academics play a key role in getting students through the next tough hurdle we need to conquer.



Tip toeing through literature

Sword fights, pantomimes, hilarious skits - remind you of your English class? Well, many students at Warren have learned about great novels and vocabulary by utilizing these unique methods. Over the years, many English teachers have developed exciting new methods of teaching so that the students never forget.

If you could write the story of your life,what type of story would it be?

1) On a snow day you: a) go to the movies with your crush b) shovel snow around your neighborhood for free c) hang out with your friends at the mall

2) At prom you are most likely to be: a) slow dancing with your boyfriend or girlfriend b) tallying the ballots for king and queen c) being the center of attention out on the dance floor.

3) During the summer you are: a) spending time with your boyfriend or girlfriend b) volunteering your time somewhere c) cracking jokes with your friends

Mostly A's : You are a romantic person. You love being around people that love you. Mostly B's : You love doing what is right. You help out as much as you can. Mostly C's : You enjoy a lot of comedy and laughs. You are always making people laugh.

Math equals excellence

Through hard work and dedication of both students and teachers, math scores on the Graduation Qualifying Exam went up 6 points this year. The score raise was the biggest jump yet, and much higher than most surrounding counties. At a time when most schools are failing at a state standard and no child left behind, Warren Central is striving ahead.

Simple Science

Materials: Elmer's White Glue, Borax (available in the laundry department of most stores), Water, Stirring Utensil, and 2 Bowls

Now let's get started!

1) Mix equal quantites of Elmer's Glue and water into a bowl.
2) In separate bowl, mix 1 Tbsp of Borax with a bit of water and stir until all the Borax dissolves. Then continue adding Borax, a little at a time, until no more will dissolve.
3) Add 2 Tbsp of the Borax solution to the bowl of water and glue. Stir quickly and your mixture will evolve into slime.

Your newly created slime should keep for a few weeks in a sealable plastic bag.

Most years, students enrolled in a foreign language are given the opportunity to use their skills through the foreign exchange program. This program allows students to visit a different country and/or have a student from that country live with them. Many participants find the program to be very beneficial. However, this year because of world safety issues, many languages didn't partake in certain aspects of the exchange.

War with Iraq

Many people believed the war against terror started after September 11, but it actually began in 1991. America's struggle with terror commenced with the Gulf War when the United States first battled Iraqi power. This year we saw history repeat itself with the new U.S. campaign Iraqi Freedom. We had a new President Bush but the same struggle: ousting dictator Sadaam Hussein. this year's history classes spent more time focusing on current events and how they affected the world as well as Warren.

Your Interests

Your outside-of-school activities. They take up your time, they give you something to look forward to during those boring classes, and they bring you countless opportunities. Opportunities to meet new friends, to share common interests with others, and to do sometihng positive with your time. With the numerous negative influences these days, clubs and other extra-curricular activities give students a much-needed escape from the outside world. Activities such as the National Honor's Society and Student Council are great ways to give back to the community, whereas those like Japan and Science Clubs give students with a particular interest additional time to spend with others. Regardless of whether you spent all hours of the night at school, or even if you just came as a spectator, clubs in some way impacted your four-year journey.

)ld records were shattered, the bar was set higher, and iew memories were made by Warrior athletes. These
:elentless athletes transcended the bar set in previous 'ears, distinguishing themselves from past teams. With )lack and gold filling the hallways every Friday, the 'ootball team paved the way for the Road to the Dome and
:he basketball teams dominated the hardcourt. Other
;ports such as volleyball, wrestling, track, and baseball
'ose to new heights and continued to be elite powers in
:he state. The Warriors put in numerous hours and
:remendous dedication to every practice and every game.
'hey shed blood, sweat, and tears throughout the season n an effort to win every match. All the hard
'ork was rewarded with trophies, records,

Right: Students cook hamburgers and hot dogs at the tailgate party before the first Ben Davis game. Once again, the football team was victorious.

Opposite Page: Seniors Jenni Bechtel, Brittney Russell, and Krista Wilson pose at this year's Survivor competition. It consisted of several crazy games between the classes, such as an obstacle course.

Your People

As a freshman, discovering yourself and who you want as friends are serious concerns and something that is ever changing. However, by the time you reach your senior year, your friends are usually much more clear cut, and are a large factor in keeping your sanity amidst the chaos and seemingly never-ending problems and issues faced during this time. Classes, clubs, and the many extra-curricular activities available are great, but school would be lifeless without all the people in attendance, and best of all, your friends. These people bring personality and character to the school and classes therein. And while nearing the end of your journey, as you get closer to college and what is yet to come, your classes may change and your life may be hectic, but your friends will be there until the end.

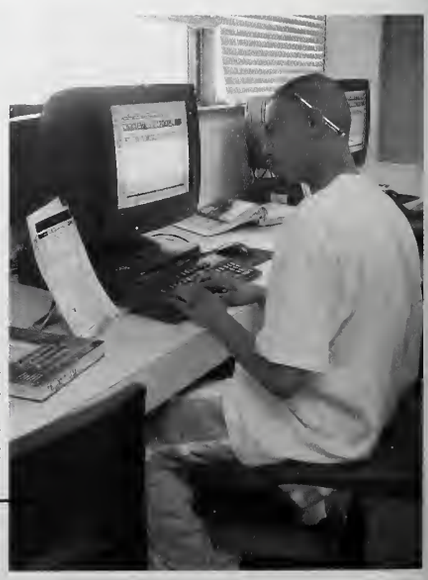
During Latin class freshman Stephen Emmons is working hard to maintain a good grade. Learning Latin takes hard work and a lot of studying.



With hard concentration, freshman Evan Strater is working on the computer. This class takes much time and effort to make sure that every detail is exactly right.

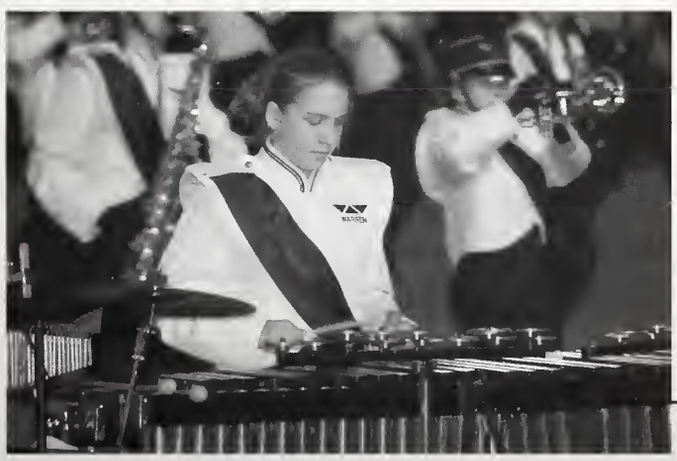
Sophomore

"I like to sing, rap, and read poetry. I can do all types of voices and multi-talented role-plays. I can get really soulful in singing and really emotional when reading my own poetry. I care a lot for the arts in those fields." "This has been part of my life since third grade."



Sophomore Heather Davis concentrates on playing the right notes on the xylophone. The marching band placed very well in their competitions this year with their show entitled Rage, Reflection, and Wrath.

Your Finale

We've finally made it. We've managed to reach the year and time in our lives that as freshmen we could not conceive, as sophomores we longed for, as juniors we looked foward to. Now as seniors we could barely believe we were already there. For some the time seemed to drag on while for others the time flew by, but all in all, most of us would agree that it's as if the past three years was a blink of an eye; however,the past year didn't seem long enough. We've had rough times, like final exams and the stress of figuring out what to do next, but more importantly, we've had exciting times like the 45 and out party, and great victories like seniors winning the Senior-Faculty basketball game. No matter what you choose to remember and which memories you will cherish forever, this high school and these four years are major building blocks for the rest of our lives. We've hated it, we've enjoyed it, but we are better people for surviving it. Now it's time to take the knowledge we've accumulated and do great things.

1.) Holly Cartwright pushes her way on her mini trike to gain a lead on Ciera Horton. This event is an annual time for seniors to let loose and have a good time. Seniors join together with friends to make a team, they make their uniforms, and enjoy compete against other teams.

2.) Santia Spight enjoys herself while gliding around the rink. Many seniors are talented skaters and did multiple tricks to entertain their friends. Roller Cave would rent their rink out to our school so the seniors could skate, play games, and dance.

3.) ZeNai Savage, Luke Tudor, and Ashley Reeder pose for the camera in their dress up attire. Dress- up day kicked off the week of fun for the seniors.

4.) Courtney Green offers the camera some of her chicken strips from the senior luncheon. During the luncheon, seniors hung out with their friends, ate lunch, and danced to the latest songs. Class pictures on the football field followed the luncheon.

5.) What a beautiful day this turned out to be. Seniors traveled to the courtyard to eat lunch with their friends while listening to the tunes from WEDM 91.1 FM. Tyrone Dixon was giving his shout-outs to the seniors as they stuffed their faces, while others made the day more enjoyable by playing a game of soccer. On the other hand, the TV station was capturing everyone's favorite senior memory.

6.) Malyrie Wells and Jeremiah Colby are decked out in their senior wear. This was a day to go all out and show your spirit to the rest of the school.

7.) The seniors of McNulty's 2nd period applied physics class await their graduation day by dressing in their caps and gowns. Seniors anticipate the following week because cap and gown day is the one week mark of the rest of their high school career.

(Right) Krista Wilson shows off her kiddie gear on K-8 day. Seniors donned former elementary school clothing for a day of reliving old times and styles.

Rounding out to the last week, seniors sported their spirit. Whether rolling around the skating rink or running down the field trying to conquer Senior Olympics, they all had one thing in common... graduation. To most, Senior Week was about going to the PAC to watch Senior Finales, eating lunch in the courtyard, dressing in caps and gowns for the senior luncheon, and making the last memories of high school. To others, it was just another week closer to getting out of here. From the beginning of the year, many seniors had been counting down the days, which had now become just hours, minutes, and seconds. Now that the end was here it was a little sad, but for most seniors, and awesome experience was just waiting to happen.

Kimmy Adamson

Kimmy,

We are so proud of you. You have been through a lot these past 2 years. We are amazed at the courage and strength you possess. We know that you have learned a lot from these experiences and will continue to live your life to the fullest. We can see from all the people that surround you that you are a very loyal and giving friend. Our family is lucky to have you. Your continued sense of humor and easy going attitude is always uplifting. We love you and know you will be able to face any challenges with patience and pride. We are always here for you! God Bless!

Love always,
Mom, Dad, Niki,
Madison, and Justin

Class of '03

Dave Freeman

Dave,

Being your parents has been especially rewarding, watching the little boy who could make us so mad and then make us laugh until we cried. Watching you grow into the person you are has been wonderful. You are at a time in your life of new beginnings and your future is unfolding. It is an exciting thing to watch! As you celebrate your graduation and continue to learn and try new things know that you have our love and support and we are proud of you.

Love,
Mom and Dad

Class of '03

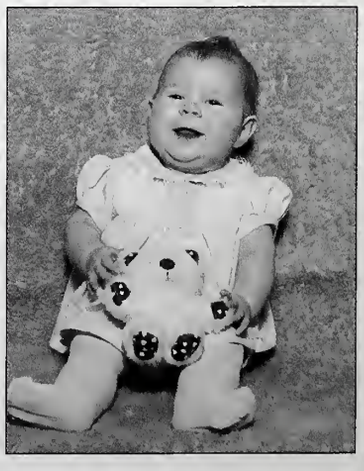
Teresa Richardson

Teresa,
It does not seem like 18 years have passed. It has been such a joy to watch you grow into the wonderful young woman you have become. I could not have asked for a better daughter. May the angels watch you as you start the next stage of your life.
I love you so much.
Mom



Class of '03 Rebecca Norsen

Rebecca,

Remember when Daddy cleaned and carpeted the mini barn and set up desks and chairs, so you could have your very own 'little red schoolhouse'? You and your friends spent many summers there playing school with you, of course, as the teacher.

Now here you are graduating from high school and going off to college to major in education to become a real teacher.

We have been very blessed to have such a kind, compassionate and loving daughter. You have put smiles on our faces, laughter on our lips and pride in our hearts. You make this world a better place. We'll always be here for you.

Love always,
Mom, Dad and Victoria

Class of '03 Megan Andrews

Megan

We are so proud of the wonderful young lady you have become. You have brought our family so much joy! Remember to live your life for God. We love you! "You are our Sunshine!"
Mom, Dad, and Kevin

Class of '03 Jocellyn Ford

CONGRATULATIONS!

You are our princess, a jewel from above!

We are proud of you!

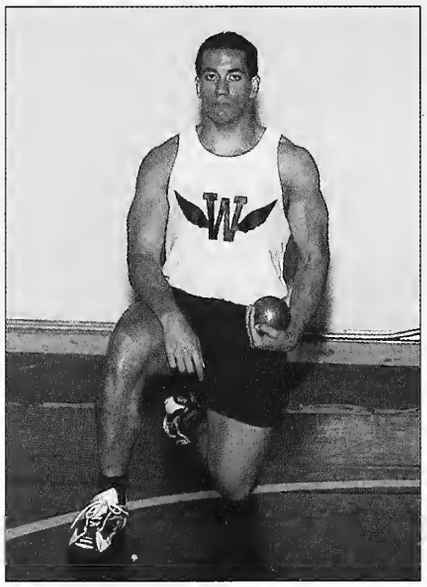
Trust in the lord with all thine heart;and lean not unto thine own understanding. In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy path.
Proverbs 3:5-7

Mom, Dad, and Kenneth

Class of '03

Noah Winston

Noah,
You are leaving with good times, good friends, and wonderful memories at Warren!
Good luck in all that is left to come!



Class of '03

Matthew Fielder

You have grown from a cute little boy into a handsome young man, always making us proud! Watching you grow and develop into your own person has been pure joy! Aim your sights toward Heaven, and God will guide you on your journey into adulthood.
Much love always,
Mom and Dad

Class of '03

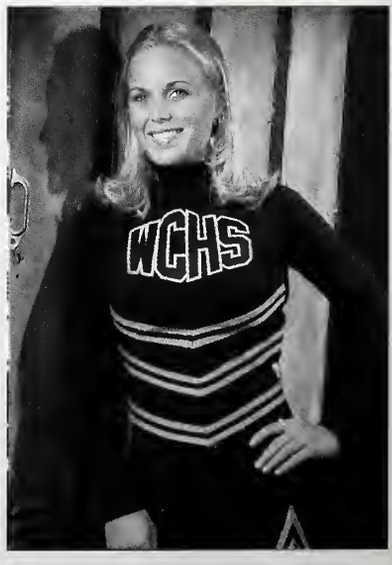
Amanda Moloy

Mandy

We never considered any name for you other than 'Amanda Rose'. Even before you were born, the name seemed to fit. 'Amanda' means 'worthy of love'. and 'Rose' honors your great-grandmothers flower-like beauty in you.

Watching you grow has given us many joyful memories. Much has changed in 18 years, but the most important things haven't...your intrinsic qualities... imaginative and creative; loving and protective; quick to forgive; reliable and dedicated; humble and confident; honest and caring; joyful and high-spirited. These are your unique gifts from God.

You've had a great experience at WC. We have no doubt you will shine at IU and where ever your life takes you.



Love and Prayers,
Mom and Dad

Class of '03

"OH THE PLACES WE WILL GO!"

John and Justin

We are so proud of the two of you for everywhere and everything you have gone and done in your 18 years. We wish you the very best in everything that you pursue in your future. We are so very proud of the fine young men you have become. We love both of you so very much!

Kim, Jennifer, Big John, Terri, Krista, Kelly and the Gunderman family

I've known John and Justin since sixth grade. They have always shown me the utmost respect over the years. Not only have I had the relationship of a coach and his wrestlers, but the relationship between myself and these two young men has developed into a friendship. I would be proud as a father to call these two young men my sons!

Class of '03

Amanda Heck

Dear Sweet Amanda,

Words can't descride the joy you have brought into our lives. We have watched you grow into a beautiful and talented woman. All the accomplishment, all the success, it's all yours, you earned it!! You will succeed in whatever path you choose, we know it because we have seen it over and over. You are the sunshine in our lives and many others! Good Luck at I.U. and entering a new phase in your life. We love you very much and are so very proud of you!!

Love,
Bub, Mom, and Johnny

Class of '03

Rachel Drummond

I remember that little girl so well. It was just the other day wasn't it? Or was it a dream? I remember her first steps; the first time she called my name; her little hand holding mine. We went everywhere together, we did everything together, and we talked about everything...together.

I remember praying, "Lord, watch over her"; he did then and he does now. She was then, and always will be, the biggest and best part of my heart.

Having you for a daughter means having a dream and watching it come true. I remember my little girl, and I love the young woman she's become.

Dad

Class of '03

Erin Shaw

Dear Erin,
Congratulations! You made it. We are so proud of you and all of your accomplishments. You are such a strong person and your resolve to succeed will let you go far in your future. I remember you dancing at three years old what a cutie you were. Gymnastics took over your life at five years old and what a competitor. You are a kid at heart and may you always have fun. Your sister and I love you and wish you the best in all that you do. Remember where you came from and you will be successful in all that you do.
Love,
Mom and Nita

Class of '03

Ashley Ross

Ashley,
Wow! What a wonderful journey it has been to share these first 18 years of your life. You have filled our home wtih laughter and our lives with joy. We are so proud of the young woman you have become. From the moment you were born you have kept our attention with your independent nature, your strong sense of direction, and your desire to succeed. The many accomplishments have come from your dedication not only to the task but to yourself. The world is wide open for you; we can't wait to see what you accomplish next. Stay true to yourself, enjoy all that you do, and remember that we love you and will always be here for you.
Love always,
Mom, Dad, and Amanda

What was the funniest thing that happened in your class ?

-Warren faculty tells all

"Jarrod Limbach and Krys Butcher were talking and turned to look at each other, but instead they accidentally kissed."

-Mrs. Wolff

" The funniest thing that happened in my class this year was when we were finished with our lesson for the day, I did a head stand and started singing funny songs."

-Mrs. Oblon

"During my Applied Physics class, I had a mirror on my desk. I straddled the mirror and put the broom between my legs. Then I lifted one leg and the reflection made it look like I was flying. That's not the best part. I started cackling like the wicked witch from the Wizard of Oz."

-Mr. McNulty

" The TV was accidentally left on after I started class and music came on and I started dancing in the middle of my Sophomore English Class."

-Mr. Dayment

"Ese and Eric Bennett were racing to the chalkboard during a review game and Ese ran into the board."

-Mr. Jarrett

"One day Erin Meid called me to tell me she wouldn't be in my class because she was staying in the orchestra room to practice. The next day when she came in I gave her a hard time and made her go get a pass from Mr. Payne. While she was gone the whole class and I went to the media center without telling her. She would have wandered the halls all period if it weren't for Mr. Comiskey telling her where we were."

Senior members of the prom court smile for the camera right after the announcing of the King and Queen. This year's King and Queen were Jarod Limbach and Megan Andrews.

Members of the newly formed Warren rugby team meet to go over strategy before their game. While not yet a school funded team, they played other in-state teams.

The War with Iraq hit home during second semester, as many saw family and friends deployed over seas for the war against Iraq. Many Warriors stayed strong during the time by wearing yellow ribbons and keeping up on the war during class periods by talking about it and reading the news paper.

On May 13 the opportunity of a lifetime came around for the varsity cheerleaders, honors band, and winter guard members of Warren Central. These Warriors were able to perform for President George Bush at the Pepsi Collisum before he delivered his speech. This once-in-a-lifetime event came about because the President was on a cross country tour to discuss his tax plan.

(right) Digital imaging captures the perfect technique shown by senior Zenai Savage during her discus competition at County. Zenai, a three sport star, was honored for her many accomplishments with the Marion County Female Athlete of the Year.

Someone once said that all good things must come to an end, and that high school is the fastest part of your life because it is so much fun. From our experience we know that whoever said that was definitely right.

As I sit and think about everything that has happened throughout second semester I realize there was fun and excitement but also fear and unanswered questions.

On the evening of March 19 war began in Iraq. Bombs hit the city of Baghdad and shook the ground starting a war that many feared. The war hit home at Warren as many family members and friends were called up for active duty and sent across seas.

At the end of March, the drama department once again outdid themselves with the spring play, "Can't Take it With You." The play lightened the mood for students and adults alike.

Two days before spring break the Hi-Lites departed for New York City to compete in the national finals for the title of Grand Champion. Finding themselves against the best in the country didn't phase them though, as the girls came home victorious.

After suffering through one of the worst winters in history, which yielded only one measly snow day, spring break was welcomed by all. Many students sought refuge from school in Florida, while others went skiing, travelled out of the country, or just stayed home and hung out with friends. As the break rolled on, so did the war; however, it wasn't long after that Baghdad fell and America tentatively declared a victory.

April finally brought some relief from the cold, as temperatures slowly crawled up into the 70's. With the warm April weather came prom - this year with great weather. Held on April 26 at the Roof Ballroom, students danced the night away to the American Idol hit song "A Moment Like This."

When May arrived it seemed like the whole school was in fast forward. The seniors readied themselves to say goodbye to friends and teachers, and in a way, to say goodbye to a part of themselves, while underclassmen took the reigns and prepared for new experiences.

Remember this was only the beginning to what could be an amazing story. So when they ask you, "How does your story go?" Tell them, it went something like this.

To the staff:

What can I say? It has been a year full of laughs and unforgettable yearbook memories! I will never forget a one of you (even the ones that aren't coming back)

Ben- DO NOT pick up anyone that you come across in life, they might not like that too much.

Jill- Good luck at Ohio State and keep your head up! You have a good future ahead of you!

Jenni- Girl what can I say? No more lunch together! :(Well, I will never forget the three years that we spent talking about everyday things and what we were going to do in McNulty's class that day! You are the best and I love ya to death! Good Luck!

Sarah-Well we have been through 3 years together and no matter what I know that I could never forget the journeys that we have taken, from riding with Ben to Franklin and then you standing me up at Ball State, no matter what you are a great friend! Thanks!

Stephen-Well, the only guy...Once you stop picking on my spelling maybe I will the nice to you! Just kidding! You are a good guy and even through I know where you live I won't come over this summer just to bug you!

Amanda- We started in preschool and can you believe that we have been friends this long! It's going to be weird not getting to talk to you everyday! You did a great job this year and thanks for being awesome!

LaShae-From Spanish to Yearbook you are an all-around great friend! You could always brighten up the room just by cracking a joke! You are going to have to give me and call and maybe we can go to a party! Thanks for all of the hard work in doing the index and handling the money, we knew you could do it!

Rachel- I didn't forget you! Thanks for working extremely hard and keeping the photogs in line! I don't know what we would have done without you because we would have been pictureless! Thanks a bunch and always remember the days of laughter!

Amy-From sixth grade to now I always knew that you were a great girl! I will never forget the laughs and the stories that were told during ninth period! Thanks for all your hard work with the sports! I wish you were staying one more year but it's OK I will just talk to you in the hall! Love ya!

Jess, Mickey, Delanie, Heather, Brandy- Girls thanks for all of your hard work! You were a big part of this years book! We would be lost without you! You made this year even better and made sure that you were on your toes at all time! I can't wait to get back to work next year! See ya in ninth period!

Krys-Well, you are the greatest! I know that I can tell you anything and expect nothing but the best! I had a great time in Dallas, it was a trip that I will never forget! Good luck next year and remember that I an right beside you (literally)! I can't wait to start the next year and make more funny memories." Hey I'm up here!"

To the one and only Baldwin-You are the best! I know that I will see you all summer but it still won't be the same! I can't wait to see you next year and get the next book done! You are the greatest and I love ya to death! Thanks for making a difference in my life!

Thanks to everyone! I love you all and I couldn't have asked for any harder workers! Good luck and have fun in the years to come, they will be the best!

Love always,
Lauren Michelle

700 Copies of the 66th volume of the yearbook were printed by Herff Jones Yearbooks at the cost to students of $40 each. Mrs. Cathy Wolfe served as the Herff Jones represenativet. Mrs Alison Baldwin was the yearbook advisor, Mr. Mark Haab was the Publications Director, and Mr. Tony Burchett was the principal. The book was printed on 80 pound matte paper. All photos were taken and developed at Warren Central by the staff photographers, or taken and developed by Prestige Portraits. All page layouts were created on Pagemaker 7.0 software.
